The completion of the bi-county bridge over the Bay St. Louis cannot be accomplished too early, and the unavoidable delay in the arrival of material is regretted however it is ex-

All eyes are turned to the largest building. Within the building is the section with the ball room, and the other every attraction for our friends who live on the other side of the Bay. Next year, the bridge completed, it will be not only a great interest, convenience and pleasure but a necessity. We cannot lose the building of the bridge any too much.

EXPERT LAUDS WEEKLIES.

One of the highest compliments recently paid the weekly newspapers of the country comes from James O'Shaughnessy, executive secretary of the American Association of Advertising Agencies, who declared in a Boston address that "country weeklies are the cornerstone of American journalism.""The weekly in a small town talks to its readers more intimately and confidentially than any other medium," Mr. O'Shaughnessy said.Such a tribute from one of America's leading advertising authorities is gratifying to the thousands of country publishers, many of whom are struggling under adverse conditions to faithfully serve their communities.It should be remembered that small circulations with the fact that the weekly newspaper offers the most effective medium for placing his store in front of the public, upon whom he depends for his livelihood.

FOR HUMANITY'S SAKE.

Four millions dollars are needed for the Florida storm sufferers, and possibly more. There is an urgent need for funds and it is refreshing to note the spirit with which the people over the country are responding.
No one is not too engrossed with the day's routine or even life's frivolities to stop a moment in answer to that dictate which comes from the human heart, to give in order to alleviate the suffering and to succor those in want. The spirit manifested in Bay St. Louis is most noteworthy. The local Red Cross and others organized are engaged in the work of raising funds—all for one cause, for the common good. All lines are obliterated and unanimous effort prevails. The Echo, under the auspices and working with the Rotary club, that organization of service, carries a long list of names of subscribers to the fund. It is not how much money, but how many have given.Aside from the human impulse and the generosity of self's spirit it is well to remember that we, too, reside in the path of wind and wave. While no such great disaster is apt to strike this section for reason of our distant location from the source of great storm, we should give for reason that possibly some day assistance of some kind, possibly following disaster of some other nature, if not similar, might be welcome, as much as we hope not.However, the sword of Democles hangs over all heads as a people regardless of location. We remember in our school books of classics how at the court of Dionysius at Syracuse Democles, the vainglorious and self-centered sat at the festival board, talking volubly with an air of independence and susceptible to flattery, until he halted and discovered hanging over his head the famous sword, and thus brought to a sense of realization and humbled to the true level.If it takes four millions to assist suffering humanity in Florida, as announced by the National Red Cross society, we feel the people of the country will answer the call by going far over this amount—they generally do.

THE STUDY OF THRIFT.

The study of thrift added to the regular curriculum of our schools would not be amiss in these days of jazz and fast living, where the youth is all too prone to spend more than he earns, and—frequently is spending the money of others. Lack of thrift and using other people's money has been the downfall of more than one.State Superintendent of Education Bond sent out a bulletin on the subject of thrift this week that is all important, and we are of the opinion the matter cannot be impressed any too much. Our local bankers, Messrs.
Rea and Seal, have frequently appeared in the school rooms of our city and county and at other places on different occasions and addressed their hearers on the subject and to great advantage. Supt. Bond says:"While the subject of Thrift is not in the course of study as required by law, yet many of our teachers have very wisely required that their students take a course in this very important subject. In fact, thrift should be taught in every school. Those teachers who would like the very best information possible on the teaching of thrift should order the booklet, 'The Gateway to Independence,' from the Arrowhead Publishing company, of Duluth, Minnesota, or get the 'Thrift Packet' from the National Thrift Committee, Madison Ave., New York City. The price each is one dollar."We should like very much for thrift to be taught in all of our schools. The P-T-A workers of the state, under the leadership of Mrs. Clyde V. Maxwell, Pickens, Miss., will be glad to help in every possible way."The Echo notes with more than ordinary interest the P-T-A workers over the state are going to engage in the work, under the capable leadership of Mrs. Clyde V.
Maxwell, who is well known for her good work. Thrift is a good subject, and should never be lost sight of.

ECHO OF MAXIMILIAN.

The death of a remarkable character was chronicled in a press dispatch from Almagordo, N. M., a few days ago, when Juan Mena passed away at the age of 109.
Mena's claim to fame did not depend upon his great age alone. He had commanded the firing squad which executed Emperor Maximilian, of Mexico, with his generals, Mijelas, Mirabon and Marquez.Maximilian, archduke of Austria, had accepted the crown offered him by Napoleon III of France and Mexican leaders in 1864, but his reign was beset with difficulties from the beginning. Refusing to abdicate when it would have been policy to have done so, he took refuge in Queretaro, where he sustained a siege for several weeks, finally being captured by the revolutionists.
He was tried by court-martial and shot on June 19, 1867.Juan Mena, whose duty it became to carry out the emperor's death sentence, was at the time a captain in the revolutionary army, in which Porfirio Diaz, afterwards president, was of the same rank. Mena had lived in the United States for many years prior to his death, and was a highly respected citizen, though he could neither read nor write.The names connected with Maximilian's execution form a remarkable alliteration: Mexico, Maximilian, Mijelas, Mirabon, Marquez and Mena, the executioner.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK.

Last year's fire loss in this country exceeded a half billion dollars. That is a terrible toll, and the facts are convincing that much of it can be saved by the application of proper care.The week beginning October 3rd has been designated as Fire Prevention Week, and while we have a great number of special weeks the importance of the end in view justifies our attention to the subject.It should be no source of pride to Americans to realize that the fire loss in this country is record-breaking. The only way such a loss can be stopped is for every citizen to obey the recognized rules of safety, and to recognize the fact that this means us.Let's make up our minds to avoid careless fires in Bay St. Louis. Let every reader realize that the way to stop the effects of the carelessness of everybody is for each of us to correct the habits of our own. It is no use for us to argue about the risks our neighbors take; to do good we must cut out the risks we take.

SPONSORING A HEALTHFUL MOVEMENT.

The movement, sponsored by local citizens, to make Bay St. Louis a center of athletics, is one that will find ready response by all who realize the advantages to be gained as a result.To make Bay St. Louis a football town, as expressed, will prove a great drawing card and attract the presence and interest of many living away, as well as the resident population. Clean athletics, the kind sponsored as in the past, is healthy and a good sign, and reflects credit to the community. The present movement on foot to make St. Louis a center of athletics, and to bring to the city the best athletes, is a commendable one, and one that will find ready response by all who realize the advantages to be gained as a result.

PRESS COMMENT

The Teacher's Reward.
With the approach of autumn the public schools are open as well as the colleges and universities. To their labors an army of teachers are summoned and for nine months or more the daily activity in classroom must continue. For teaching is a profession that exacts more than a routine. It leaves tribute on heart and brain and body. A real teacher's work is not over when the bell rings and classes break up for the day. A mechanic can throw down his tools when the whistle blows, go home and forget them until tomorrow. But a teacher, a moulder of youth, can not do that and remain a teacher.The rewards of the teaching vocation are certainly not financial.
The average teacher and college professor is poorly, inadequately bringing out of obscurity into lighter than they were. They should be better paid, but at their best they are but a small part of the teacher's compensation. The association with youth, the opportunity to watch the growing mind and inspire that bind to worth ideals, the bringing out of obscurity into light of personalities latent or dwarfed for one reason or another, is great gain, is satisfying and lasting.
Let the school teacher, whether grade or high, the college professor and even the modest but necessary tutor ponder this well. The rewards of the teacher are as substantial as the Rock of Gibraltar and eternal in the values that matter most.—Clarion Ledger.

An Aislinne Governor.

Gov. Austin Peay, of Tennessee, seems to be several kinds of a jackass. In a statement issued by him relative to the Florida disaster he says:"The people of Florida went on a big spree. They were fast losing their hold on religion and good order and law observance down there.
Maybe there was a little retribution in their frightful visitation. I think that no state, no people, can forget the age-old commandments and escape punishment."
If that's Gov. Peay's idea of God then we are glad we do not worship his kind of God.Queer and distorted, indeed, must be the brain of a man who imagines God created a havoc such as that wrought in Florida—a God who would have mothers mourn for their children; a God sending little ones wandering about in the darkness hunting their parents; a God crushing to death innocent men and women; a God sending disease and pestilence in the wake of the storm; a God of wanton waste, destroying property valued at millions of dollars.Mankind today is being taught that God is love; that the Divine Creator is not wrathful. The utterance of the governor of Tennessee is nothing short of ghoulism. He ought to be heavily ashamed of himself.
What Florida needs is cash and condolences, not carping criticism.—
Jackson Daily News.

NERVY SALES PLANS.

Business and professional men are frequently annoyed by mail order firms which send them goods not ordered, with a request that the merchandise be either paid for or returned. Such sales methods are entirely indefensible.It is unfair to place upon a busy man the burden of wrapping and remailing stuff he does not want, yet the average person feels an obligation to pay for it at least if it is sent to him. He is often misled by the method of alleged salesmanship no doubt produces results, or it would not be resorted to by the concerns which practice it.
One way of handling such cases is reported by the "Dowagiac Bulletin."
A doctor was sent $10 worth of cigars with a request to try them and return if satisfied. In case he did not smoke, it was suggested that he could find some friend who would be glad to take them off his hands. The doctor wrote in reply:"Cigars received. I enclose in payment two prescriptions well worth $10. If you do not need them, you can sell them to some friend."

FUND FOR FLORIDA STORM VICTIMS OVER $250 MARK

"Rotary Club-Sea Coast Echo Fund" Gradually Climbing—Next Week's Publication Closes List—Money to Be Turned Over to Local Red Cross

Considering quite a number of contributions to the Florida storm fund from Bay St. Louis were sent to New Orleans, through W. S. M. B. radio station, to the Bay St. Louis Red Cross chapter direct, the subscription started under the auspices of the Bay St. Louis Rotary club and with The Sea Coast Echo has steadily grown to an extent exceeding first expectation.

As will be seen from the total published below the aim is now to the $300 goal, and possibly next Saturday, when the list will be closed and published, the amount might be exceeded. Let us hope it will be. The National Red Cross Association is calling for $4,000,000.00.

Catholic Neighborhood Circle, No. 1, voted $10.00 from its treasury to the cause. Pine Grove Circle, No. 167, Ladies W. O. W., also voted a like amount, both generous contributions.

There is a mistaken idea and a false impression existing in some minds that Florida is rich and there is plenty of money at command for the unfortunate who have lost their all, to say nothing of the loss of life. Land values and other property values that were not exist today, and values, such as much of Florida's, do not feed and clothe, take of the sick and bury the dead. The best authority is the National Red Cross. That organization of mercy is calling for help in a time of dire distress, and blessed will be he who sends his mite in this time.

WORK AND PLAY AT S. J. A.

Class Meeting.
The Seniors' class of S. J. A. was formally organized at a meeting which took place on Friday, Sept. 24. Mary Bourgeois was elected president and Erin Scaife, secretary and treasurer. The colors chosen were olive and blue, while forget-me-nots were selected as the class flowers.

Much excitement was occasioned by the election of Evelyn Boh as class poetess. Can you feature Evelyn trying to rival Shakespeare?

Everyone is showing great enthusiasm concerning the coming basketball season. Tuesday evening the girls gathered on the court and chose their first and second teams.

All the girls who are interested in athletics were urged to try their "luck" on the court, so that a third, and perhaps even a fourth, team might be formed. Just watch these "future stars" rise rapidly to the first two teams.

Some of last year's "champions" are still with us, among whom are Vivian Blaise, captain, and our spectacular goal thrower, Anna May Blaise. Then, too, we still have Mary Bourgeois and Verna Batson, whose loyalty and ability are well remembered.

Kitty O'Leary was present last Tuesday to help reorganize the team. The girls are delighted to have her assistance and are very grateful to her for the interest she is showing in their behalf. Wherever Kitty is good will and harmony prevails, so everyone feels sure that with her help the "J's" are bound to make good.

Fun Column.
Events would have taken a different course, if:
Lila would miss her chemistry. Evelyn hadn't called a plagiarist a kleptomaniac.
Anna and Bee hadn't tried to enhance their charms by dying their hair.

Vivian had paid more attention to her algebra than to her vanity case. We wonder why—Althea has gone out for athletics? Mary enjoys the week-ends so much?
Eryn was so thrilled over what Bee told her?
Alberta doesn't grow?
The Juniors are so numerous?
The Freshmen are so fresh?

Information Bureau.
Dear "little" Sophs:
Will you take a tip from "seasoned" seniors? A birdie whispered to us that unless you improve in your algebra "the goblins gonna catch you if you don't watch out!"
Love,
SENIORS.

Holy Angels Sodality.
Sh-h-h! Did you hear the flapping of Angels' wings last week? Surely you did for the Angels met in the Academy annex last Friday. The meeting of the Angels Sodality was presided over by Rev. A. J. Gmelch and was held for the purpose of electing new officers for the coming year. The following girls were elected: President, Elise Lizana; vice-president, Catharine Scaife; secretary, Nola Lizana; treasurer, Catharine Burg.

Roll of Honor.
Seniors—Alberta Beyer, Mary Bourgeois, Vivian Blaise, Beatrice Smith, Evelyn Boh, Eryn Saucier, Althea Black, Lila Gleannon, Anna Le Jeune.
Juniors—Sallie Mae Atkinson, Lois Hobbs.
Sophomores—Verna Batson, Hazel Kerosien, Lois de Armas, Lucille de Armas, Kathleen Renshaw, Anna Doyle Crawford, Mary Pierce.
Freshmen—Gertrude Partridge, Ione Canty, Anna Mae Blaise, Elisebeth Crawford, Elsie Roe Smith, Loreto Smith, Juanita Fayard, Vivian Egloff, Dolores Powers, Theresa Ward, Dorothy Hubbard, Panay C. Joleas, Edith Ballard, Lily Gilkey, Velma Zeugarling, Mary Benedetto.
Girls' Grade—Eloise Quintini, Julie Boudin, Marie Quintini, Alice L. Byrnes, Dorothy Williams, Janie Todd, Lucia Lince.

Seventh Grade—Carrie Schiro, Alice Feeney, Grace Redding, Catharine Benvenutte, Margaret Larose, Elsie Lizana, Effie Graham Power, Ruth Ballard, Antoinette Partridge, Esther Adam, Yvonne Agoste, Henrietta Plandine, Marjorie Banderet, Helen Wolfe, Yvonne Strong, Nola Lizana, Vivian Heitzman, Catherine Redding, Nicholas St. Angelo, Mildred Schindeldacker.

Sixth Grade—Mary Louise Byrnes, Marie Tosses, Arcadea, Catharine Scaife, Gertrude Puchen, Yvette Teliard, Gracie Mitchell, Joie Wolfe, Alma Le Jeune, Cynthia Richerson, Muriel Batge, Irine Johnston.

Fifth Grade—Alice Camors, Clara Younger, Lois Wolfe, Edith Spott, Rita G. Scaife, Bel Lizana.

Fourth Grade—Lorraine Quintini, Elsie Richardson, Louise Strong, Caroline Ballard, Verna Plou, Rose Mary Blaise.

VISITOR FROM ASHEVILLE.
John B. Caldwell, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Caldwell, of Asheville, N. C., reached Bay St. Louis the early part of the week, after making the long trip in a five-day trip, and after visiting friends and relatives in the city.

A. J. BILBO ANNOUNCES

Well-Known Citizen of Northern Part of Hancock County Officially Services For Supervisors' Office—Candidate Favors Good Roads.

In this issue of The Echo appears the formal announcement of A. J. Bilbo, resident of Bay St. Louis, in the northern part of Hancock county, as a candidate for the office of supervisor.

Mr. Bilbo, a brother of the ex-governor, is well and favorably known over Hancock county, a practical farmer, and a citizen vitally interested in the welfare of the country. By reason of his long experience and acquaintance of conditions and needs of his beat, Mr. Bilbo feels that he is especially qualified to serve the people in the capacity of office he seeks, and presents his claims along business lines.

"I favor good roads," said Mr. Bilbo, "and feel this is one of the most important features of the public work. Good roads mean a better country and more prosperity and a happier people and more contented taxpayers."

It is also in favor of more use of money from the Sixteenth Section fund for our schools," continued Mr. Bilbo, "and less heavy direct taxation in the different beats, where in some instances the burden is especially heavy. Taxation is all very well, but there comes a time when the people just cannot meet the obligation and must either make sacrifices or go into debt from which it is with much difficulty they emerge."

Concluding these expressions Mr. Bilbo said he planned to make an active campaign and wishes for the present, at least, to make it known through the county paper that he is a candidate, believing as it does, that the printed word carries.

SUGGESTION GIVEN ON SALVAGING METHOD OF WIND BLOWN PECANS

F. H. Lewis, veteran pecan grower and dealer of Pascagoula, has given out a suggestion to the owners of orchards in this section whose pecan crop was prematurely blown from the trees during the tropical hurricane lately. Mr. Lewis believes that if his suggestion is followed a large percentage of nuts which had attained their full growth and which would soon have fallen from the hulls will be saved.

The experiments were proved practicable in 1906, when a hurricane that struck this section blew thousands of pounds of pecans from the trees.

His suggestion follows: Assemble the blown down nuts of each tree with a rake near the trunk in one tier to the pile, and throw two to three inches or dirt over them. After three or four days, test them every day as to hulling. If nuts were sufficiently matured when blown from the tree, the hulls will slip. If the hulls do not slip within seven days, it is evident that the pecans cannot be salvaged. If ground is very dry, sprinkle water on the dirt every day.

When the pecans are hulled, give two days of sun and complete drying in the shade.

It is not certain that nuts blown down during the hurricane were matured enough to salvage, but it is worth the effort.

It is believed the Schley and Lewis, the varieties which open earliest, may be saved this season if salvage of any variety is possible. It is commended that all growers try this plan on Schley, Lewis, Success and Stuart varieties.—Pascagoula Chronicle.

Miss Marion Talley, young operator soprano, will set apart a portion of her earnings for a fund in aid of promising boy and girl singers. Her Kansas City friends assisted her in gaining the musical education which has brought her world-wide fame.

Mrs. Ida Watkins, known as the "wheelwright," has an estimated yield of 50,000 bushels from her 1,950-acre farm in southwestern Kansas, which will bring her about $60,000 for the crop.

CHURCH TO HAVE MISSION

Redemptorist Fathers Will Begin a Week's Mission October 10th at Church of Our Lady of the Gulf—Begin With Sunday Mass.

Rev. Father A. J. Gmelch, pastor of the Catholic church of Our Lady of the Gulf, Bay St. Louis, announces a special mission week, beginning with the 10 o'clock mass on Sunday, October 10th, and to be conducted by two fathers of the Redemptorist Order.

There will be both morning and evening services, the mission beginning on Sunday and closing the Sunday following. The speakers are unusually able and since there has not been a mission in the local church for quite a while the news of the forthcoming event will be received with more than ordinary satisfaction and anticipation by the devout and faithful and of interest to others in general, since the public is cordially invited to hear the special lectures and sermons.

Father Gmelch will announce details at services tomorrow morning.

"MORTICIANS" MISTAKEN FOR "BRICKLAYERS."

Morticians are "bricklayers" to some unnamed aide at the White House.

At the misunderstanding, relayed to President Coolidge as he received 200 undertakers recently, left him in ignorance of the occupation of the men with whom he was conversing.

A crowded calendar prevented the chief executive from knowing the identity of his visitors before they began filing his desk.

"Who are these men?" he asked one of the office aides.

The question was transmitted to Everett Sanders, secretary to the president.

"Morticians," he replied. The recipient of the information who was to relay it to the president looked slightly puzzled, but by the time he reached President Coolidge's desk the problem had been solved.

"Bricklayers," he told President Coolidge, sotto voce, and the delegation continued past the desk to the end.

ABOUT WOMEN

Miss Mary E. Pearson, a sophomore at Swarthmore College, is working as a taxi driver during her vacation.

Mrs. Sophia Elliott Lynn, England's pioneer woman aviator, recently won an airplane race against seven men flyers.

Mary E. Dillon, who began 22 years ago as a clerk with the Brooklyn Borough Gas company, is now president of that $5,000,000 corporation.

An Indian woman of Cranbrook, Can., assisted in capturing three escaped circus elephants by feeding them apples while they were being hobbled.

Lady Astor has written an introductory article of commendation for a new quarterly magazine for women, established in London, called The Electrical Age for Women.

COUNTRY PAPER IS CINDERELLA OF JOURNALISM, SAYS EDITOR OF PRIZE WINNING RURAL WEEKLY

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 1.—Styling the country newspaper as the Cinderella of the "World of Journalism," H. Z. Mitchell, editor of the Bemidji, Minn., Sentinel, which last year won first prize as the "best country weekly in the United States," told the Illinois Press association convention today that "Cinderella" is standing on one foot, the other extended through the doorway, asking for the slipper that will enable her to take her rightful place in society.

"Unfortunately," Mr. Mitchell said, "it is no distinction to be a country editor. Seven out of ten men we meet recall the days when they turned the crank of the Washington hand press in their home town, scabbled off the forms; chased copy or delivered papers and seemed to delight in congratulating themselves on their presence on having escaped the life of the country editor."

"The editorial sanctum of a country paper might often be termed the port of misfit men. It has been the haven of the unsuccessful minister; the disgruntled politician; the lawyer who lacks a bar at which to practice and the ambitious school teacher. The editorial chair has ever been occupied by bankers, though usually not from choice."

"Cinderella of Journalism."

"The country paper is today the Cinderella of the World of Journalism. For years we sat in the ashes of public tolerance, garbed in the rags of unpaid publicity with the smudges of unbusinesslike methods concealing our natural beauty. We were loaded over by our big sisters, the city dailies, and the national magazines, forced to accept the scraps from their tables, sustaining ourselves by the business they did not want or could not get.

"The arrival of our fair godmother, the war, changed our viewpoint, for the increased prosperity in all lines of business reflected itself in the country newspaper office. We adopted better business methods.

"If I were the manufacturer of any nationally advertised product, I would instruct every one of my salesmen to get as well acquainted with the editor of the newspaper in his territory as he does with the dealers. There isn't a dealer with whom there shouldn't be another business or professional man in your community who visits the stores as often and knows as much about the sales end of the business as the editor, that is unless it's the banker."

Solicitor for Advertiser. "If I were a manufacturer I would see that every advertising proposition I worked out was presented to the newspaper as soon as it was sent out to the dealer and even before. You would act as a constant solicitor for the manufacturer."

"Make a study of your home field. Learn merchandising methods as they apply to your stores; get acquainted with your advertisers until they seek your advice about advertising as they do their bankers about finances. Let the people they are doing business with know that you are interested in helping solve the sales problem and let them know that your co-operation means something."

BAY ST. LOUIS CITY SCHOOLS

CENTRAL HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

With the organization of classroom work almost completed, and the teachers in the various departments, co-operating in every possible way to make each moment count for the most to the child, our school entered upon the third week of the session with bright prospects for a successful school year.

Teachers and pupils have something to look forward to in the building of the new school building. It will be only a short time before they will enter their new home with all the new conveniences to aid them in their work. With the P. T. A. already at work to install the necessary equipment will be installed in the new building, it is not surprising that everyone is rejoicing, and becoming a booster for the school.

Grade News. The pupils of the Primary department are doing excellent work under the supervision of Miss Sauter, Mrs. Ashcraft. There are now seventy-three pupils enrolled. New pupils that entered this week are Camelia Asher, Bertha Asher, Norris Asher, Florine Schubert and George Gana.

Room 2 is growing steadily. With the entrance of the two new pupils this week, it can now boast of an enrollment of forty.

The fifth grade tells us that if every grade has as good an attendance record as this year, the school started, the school will be 100 per cent. in attendance.

The grammar school grades are enjoying the novelty of being under the supervision of the high school teachers this year.

The pupils of the seventh grade are glad to welcome a new member to their class, Constant Higgins. This swells the number in that grade to twenty-eight.

Wednesday, the seventh grade pupils enjoyed a half-day holiday, for having the largest number of representatives at the first P. T. A. meeting of the year.

We are gratified over the amount subscribed by the pupils of the Central school for the relief of the Florida storm sufferers. Not less than $5,000.00 is needed to meet the situation and only about half of it has been subscribed.

Our pupils responded nobly with their pennies, nickels and dimes and raised the sum of over $27.00. The

WOMEN ARE DRESSING BETTER THAN MEN.

Some Citizens Argue That From Health Standpoint Women Wear More Dress Than Men.

Fancy the male population of Bay St. Louis going about their daily work garbed in a tunic, a pair of trousers, short socks and slippers. A rather ludicrous outfit they will probably say, and yet there are some who maintain that this is just as sensible on the part of men as some of the dress now in vogue on the part of the female residents of this burg.

Those who are advocating this kind of dress for men, say that the women have far outstripped the men in dress when it comes to dress. They say that the ladies are dressing more sensibly than the men are, and yet the men swell up with pride and lay claim to centuries of leadership in almost everything that has been invented.

Time was when the male members of a household, when the family planned an evening at the theater or some other place of amusement, would be dressed and ready to leave, probably an hour or more before the women of the house were dressed. The men would storm around the house in slippers and fume in impatience while they waited for the wife to get ready.

Today it is quite different. The women have put it all over the men when it comes to time consumed in dressing. Now is the woman who has to sit around and wait for the man to get dressed. And all this is because the women have adopted a more sensible form of dress, while the men are still clinging to the mode of dress of a hundred or more years past. Just compare the number of garments a woman wears to the number worn by those worn by the men. Then compare how much more easily the women can get into their clothes than the average man.

For centuries women were stormed at for wearing corsets. Then when they decided to do away with them, almost, there came another outbreak of criticism. And all the time the women were wearing corsets, the men folks, many of them, were clinging to the old stiff bosom shirts. Some of them are still seen occasionally, but not so frequently as in former days.

In former days when the family went away for the summer, there were several trunks to be packed, and these contained the finery for the women of the family. Today it is a single trunk filled with the men's clothes, while the women—well, they can get a fairly good assortment of clothes for several days in an ordinary size wallet.

These folks who are advocating the fewer and looser garments for men say it is far more healthy. They maintain the women of today are much more healthy than they were when they wore so many clothes. Perhaps they are right. Perhaps they will eventually get the men to see it, and we will find ourselves looking around in a daze at the Roman senators. It may all come to pass. But it is doubtful.

COOLIDGE CANNOT WIN, SAYS PAT HARRISON.

Senator Pat Harrison, whip of the United States senate, in Jackson, Miss., last night, said that Coolidge would be the sole issue in the coming presidential campaign. "If Coolidge is the sole issue, then there can be no doubt of a Democratic majority in the next Congress," the senator declared.

"The Republican leaders apparently do not realize that the Coolidge myth has been exploded by the sunlight of publicity."

EXPRESSIONS OF BAY CITY COMPEL INTEREST

A Palmer Lott, well-known and wide-awake booster and local realtor, who recently wrote a number of prominent people soliciting their expressions and suggestions of Bay St. Louis, continues to receive replies, and each is well worthy of reproduction.

Last week The Echo published expressions from Gov. Whitfield, Lt. Gov. Murphy and Mrs. J. N. Stewart, an enthusiastic local resident of New Orleans.

This week we have equally splendid letters. First, one from His Honor, the Mayor of New Orleans, Arthur J. O'Keefe; F. B. Hewes, postmaster at Gulfport; and J. K. Ridgely, local division passenger agent, with headquarters at New Orleans. The letters are worthy of keeping and of a place in a scrap book for further reference.

Mayor Says No Healthier Region.

Mayor O'Keefe was prompt in his reply and letter will be read with pleasure and interest, as follows:

"It is, indeed, a pleasure to have the opportunity of saying a word of encouragement and appreciation of the very wonderful progress made in recent years in that section of South Mississippi lying along the Gulf Coast, from Pearl river to and including Waveland and Bay St. Louis, in Hancock county. Fourteen years ago, having become interested in this lovely seashore region and what was even then being done by its public-spirited inhabitants towards its development, its beautification and its advertisement and popularization, I advertised and popularized its exquisite communities. I invested in a summer home at Waveland, then only a mere promise of what it was later destined to become."

"Therefore, I dare say, no prettier, more desirable region, a healthier region or a region more generally inviting than this stretch of fertile land anywhere in the south. Not only has it developed in a remarkable degree; not only has it increased its position, agriculture and in all the essentials of a most alluring resort, both for winter and summer tourists, but its attractions in the way of fishing, bathing, hunting, its health conditions and salubrious climate are unsurpassed. And with all this, it has still been able to achieve to the satisfaction of its residents, and to make them comfortable, and in love with their surroundings, much more is now being done in the same direction. As a matter of fact, I might say this really great work of improvement and development has been done by the community of Waveland and Bay St. Louis, with their excellent railroad facilities, to the great and populous metropolis of the south, New Orleans, with its parks, its institutions, its places of amusement, etc., is not only an advantage to the community, but a benefit to those who live or visit them. Columns could be written of the wonderful evolution that has taken place and is still at work from one end to the other of this truly charming region, which will not only not sicken in the future, but a veritable garden spot and without a rival."

"Yours very truly,
"A. J. O'Keefe, Mayor."
New Orleans, Sept. 17, 1926.

J. K. Ridgely's Letter.

"I have read with a great deal of interest your letter of Aug. 26, addressed to our Mr. L. V. Colly, passenger agent at Biloxi."

"I agree with you thoroughly that Bay St. Louis has wonderful possibilities and that there will be a marked development in and around that city in the very near future."

"You are familiar with the fact that we operate twenty-two passenger trains daily over this division, all of which stop at Bay St. Louis. This alone forces Bay St. Louis to the front as one of the most desirable locations on the entire coast. The Louisville & Nashville railroad is preparing to spend a considerable sum of money this winter at Bay St. Louis, in the daily newspapers of the north, east and west, but also in the Saturday Evening Post, Literary Digest and other magazines of national circulation, featuring the attractions of the Mississippi Gulf Coast. We will also, of course, issue our usual Gulf Coast Booklets and other descriptive literature advertising the Gulf Coast."

"There is no question in my mind but what the Mississippi Gulf Coast has a wonderful future before it."

"Yours very truly,
"J. K. RIDGELY,
"General Passenger Agent,
"Lines South of Birmingham."
New Orleans, La., Sept. 6, 1926.

"From Postmaster at Gulfport."

"It is a decided pleasure to avail this opportunity in expression of due and just praise for Bay St. Louis. Your city is rapidly becoming one of the foremost resort-home cities. She has rightly taken her place among the Seven Cities-by-the-Sea, and now, having a most impressive and continuous march in progress, it is a very pretty and alluring resort, possessing the essentials of both winter and summer comfort; combined with natural attractions plus those now, and in the immediate making."

"Bay St. Louis offers many outstanding features, easily discernable. The populace without are only awaiting to be taught of these advantages, resulting in their taking cognizance of these facts. After having learned, then, many of them will take favorable action. You are familiar with the annual pilgrimage to California and Florida, and the immense percentage of residents and the outstanding advantages gained thereby. Bay St. Louis, along with the Mississippi Gulf Coast, offers the same inducements and in many respects, advantages, to the above states. This, the American people, are closest of the winter playgrounds, only twenty-one hours from Chicago on the Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico. This is quite worthy of men, and of tremendous importance. Only about two years ago did this section begin to advertise its own points of vantage and potentialities. The result was a ready response by the presence of thousands of new people in our midst; many have remained, and others are coming, and will continue to come. With a population of 40,000, it is a most desirable location."

"Yours very truly,
"F. B. HEWES,
"Postmaster, Gulfport, Miss."
Gulfport, Miss., Sept. 22, 1926.

LOCAL RED CROSS CHAPTER IS BUSY.

It was announced from every pulpit of the city churches last Sunday that the Bay St. Louis chapter, Red Cross, was engaged in a collection for funds for Florida sufferers, and all contributions be made through the local Red Cross direct would be accepted for by George R. Rea, treasurer. Collections also made in the different public schools. Contribution to this fund are still solicited and will be received by Mr. Rea, Donald Marshall is president of the chapter.

Following is the bulletin sent out by local Chapter:

"Are we glad that we were spared? Then, we should be all the sorrier for the countless people of devastated Florida. No one can sympathize with them more than we can. True sympathy means help. Who will be the first, or the second, or third to donate through the local Red Cross? Remember, we should be so grateful for our escape that we ought to be able to give easily and generously. Send checks to George R. Rea, treasurer."

READ BIBLE IN DAY.

Seventy-three members of Griffith Memorial Baptist church, Jackson, Miss., have volunteered to participate in a Bible marathon in which they hope to read through the Holy Book in one afternoon.

answer is that "The Mississippi Gulf Coast has something to offer." I am glad to see and know that Bay St. Louis is abreast of the times and to realize her continued, forward stand in the development under way.

"Bay St. Louis has numerous, natural advantages over other cities on the American Riviera. Her close proximity to the great city and metropolis of the south, New Orleans, causes a strategic situation and one to be wanted. With only 180 minutes separation by rail permits thousands of daily commuters to their business offices. Too, your city is on the Gulf and the Bay, with attractive beaches on both. It is of satisfaction to know that one can drive by motor from Bay St. Louis over the national highway (Old Spanish Trail) to New Orleans in two-and-one-half hours, affording ample time for a daily shopping or amusement visit. The cruise can be made by water in five hours."

"The investment features of your immediate section are likewise attractive, due to the present, comparative, low prices on beach and commercial properties. This condition will not exist for long, as the many major developments now under way among the millions of dollars being spent and to be expended in schools, bridges, paving, schools, buildings, amusements, etc., will all naturally enhance the values. This should and will automatically follow. The enhancements there have been slow but steady; always keeping in line with the development under way. This is a most healthy state of affairs, which is also applicable to the entire Mississippi Gulf Coast."

"With interest have I watched Bay St. Louis in her upward climb. The development of late has been remarkable and to be expected. The present and contemplated program makes secure the future of Bay St. Louis."

"Yours truly,

ROCK-A-CHAW BASEBALL SEASON CLOSES.

S.S.C. FOOTBALL SEASON WILL OPEN TOMORROW

Game With Algiers Spartans Sunday, Oct. 3rd—Coach Commagere Has Excellent Lot of Material For Squad—Three Teams Are Completed.

Sunday, October 3, St. Stanislaus will throw her Red and Black clad warriors into the fray on the gridiron once more. The same esprit de corps that has carried the colors of Stanislaus to many victories in the past will dominate tomorrow when they line up against the strong team of ex-college men who sail under the non de grid of Algiers Spartans. Rock-A-Chaw park will be the scene of the scrimmage, and a game worth seeing will be on the cards.

The Spartans are composed of men who have been playing the game for a long time and can be depended upon to furnish the goods.

Many Gridirers Report.
When the word went down the line, shortly after the registration of the students for this session, that those who desire to play football were to report to Coach Commagere, there was a perfect stampede for the honor of donning a uniform, more than seventy applicants presented themselves with hope beating high in their bosoms for a place in the line-up.

By careful scrutiny of the candidates and repeated try-outs, Coach Commagere has weeded out until he has selected about twenty of the best men for the "first string." The second team has thirty-three men and the third team twenty-six. Changes will naturally take place in the number of eligibles on Varsity as some fall below par and lower men improve in their playing.

Commagere is confident that he has timber for a first-class team to represent Stanislaus this year, but is not quite ready to name the Varsity squad's personnel; their action against the Spartans will go a long way toward establishing permanency. The matter of average weights is another thing that must be held in abeyance for a while, let it suffice that the Rock-A-Chaws of this year will be composed of a pretty hefty line and a very fast, light backfield; a tout en semble that will measure up very nicely with the teams that made history for the old college.

Bro. Edmund, the Vice-Prexy, will have charge of the second string, and he is satisfied that he can graduate many into the higher ranks.

The Schedule.
On account of a hitch or two in the schedule of games to be played this season, the publishing of some will be deferred till next week. Bro. Peter is anxious that the best games obtainable be on the cards, therefore the delay.

LUMBERJACK HARD HITTER CITED.

"Mege" Haas, hard-hitting first-sacker of the Lumberjacks at Kiln, according to a letter received by the manager at this place Wednesday from President Anderson, of the Gulfport club, was requested to report to the Tarpons for a tryout during the spring training season. "Mege" Haas has had a remarkable record while with the local club, having hit at a clip between 400 and 500 practically the entire season. He boasts the distinction of having struck out only three times during the past season, and records only charged him with three errors at the doorway position.

"Mege" is not only a safe hitter but also being a long drive line of note, being a dependable outfielder as well as an infielder. And if present indications can be used as a criterion the Lumberjack star should give some one a good fight for a place on the Tarpon lineup.

ROCK-A-CHAWS 1926 RECORD.

Commagere's tribe of ball tossers accomplished something in the ball lot this year. They played a total of twenty-three games (one with the Gulfport Tarpons of the Cotton States League) of which they won eighteen and lost five. They accumulated 132 safe hits and scored a grand total of 85 runs, as against 97 hits and 45 runs for their opponents. Big Zeke Bonura garnered a total of 13 home runs in the year.

STANISLAUS ROMP RIOTOUSLY OVER GULFPORT GULLS

Bonura Bats 1000 Per Cent.—Three Homers, One Triple and Single—Gulfport City Champs Smothered By 25 to 1 Score.

The base ball season of 1926 closed at Rock-A-Chaw park last Sunday in a blazing burlesque. A game of ball was scheduled to take place between the Stanislaus Rock-A-Chaws and a team from the city of Gulfport that were touted as being the pick of the picks, in fact, the City Champs of that burg, the invincibles of the horsehide tossers.

Fans naturally looked forward to seeing the season wind up in a blaze of glory, two teams of real artists who would battle tooth and nail for nine innings in as snappy a show as anyone wished to witness.

The battle took place alright, but the scrap between the Antaeus and the ants was a tame affair beside what the tribe of Commagere put over on the sixth, it was a slambang great pot of entry for a spectacular half dozen innings. The visitors had as much chance against the college lads as a pork chop at a Hebrew celebration.

From the ringing in of the first inning for the Rocks to the last fade-out of the sixth, it was a slambang affair of increasing batting averages for almost every man-jack of the team. Rinaudo, the lead-off man, started the show by a single to right. He stole second, went to third on a bum peg and cantered home while the ball was trying to find a soft place to camp in the grass. After Bonemps failed to knock the stitches out and got a pass back to the shade Schwartz poled out a triple over short, Bonura ditted Marchie's hit with a three-sacker to deep center and scored on Fernandez's out, second to first. Rayne singled over short and swiped second, Hubert got winged by the pitcher and took first, Glover's walk filled the bags. LaNasa got a Tex-Leaguers' to right, which, by excellent base running, cleaned the paths and scored three runs. Bonemps up twice in one inning, popped out to third.

Five hits and six runs was the outcome of the first salvo.

Homer No. 1.
Bonemps opened the second period by driving a double to left, Chapin walked Schwartz and Big Zeke, the batting bambino of the Rocks, poled out his first homer to right center, scoring Leroy and Marchie ahead of him. Mr. Chapin, the Gulfport two-fer, got extremely naughty and struck out the other two boys. Three more tallies had been recorded, however.

The lone tally that graced the column of the visitors was made in the third by a gentleman lugging the Non de Famille Saragopopolous, who ex-tracted a Tex-Leaguers' out of the outfielders of LaNasa and scored on some anti-deluvian pegging. The score was what is known in Lex as Donation Interviews.

Register No. 2.
Four more runs were added to the memory book in the third, Baron was used and stole second. LaNasa outbunting third strike, Rinaudo flew to center, Bonemps beat out a drive to short, Schwartz singled and scored Baron and Leroy, Vaughn tried to get Marchie at second and pegged wild, Schwartz taking third. There came the mighty Zeke with his pole again and the said Zeke swat-teth the sphere to the far distant pastures for his second homer of the day.

Rayne, the elongated artist of the Rouge et Noir, who is being trimmed and tuned to do some box stunts in the future, took LaNasa's place on the mound, but the Champs could not fathom his delivery and the boat rocked along.

Broadcast Zeke's Third.
The fifth and last inning that the Rock-A-Chaws were allowed to continue their orgy was a spasm that would change the countenance of a door jamb; it converged from a lambasting to a bounding frolic, which so bewildered the gentleman visitors that they breathed a sigh of relief when it ended. With Bonemps and Schwartz on the paths, the mighty warrior came to the bat again, he selected one that looked like a zeppelin and nailed it to the meadows for his third homer of the game, scoring Bonemps and Schwartz ahead of him.

This circuit drive took all the starch that was left out of the visitors, particularly their pitcher, Mr. Chapin. He then walked both Fernandez and Rayne; Hubert singled, scoring Fernandez. The safe hunting fireworks then started; Baron got one, followed by LaNasa, Rinaudo and Bonemps. Zeke, coming up for the second time in the inning, swatted a single to left—it was simply terrific, ten yards had scarcely crossed the plate, making the grand total a matter of 25 runs to 1 lonely for Gulfport. The Rock-A-Chaws had accumulated nineteen safe hits to their opponents four.

KILN LUMBERJACKS CLOSE SEASON AS BEST IN HISTORY

Lumber Town Has Never Had Better Plans, However, For Stronger Team Next Year to Be Discussed at Banquet to Be Held Soon.

(Special to Sea Coast Echo)
Kiln, Miss., Oct. 1.—The Kiln Lumberjacks closed one of the most successful seasons in the history of the lumber town here Sunday by dropping a listless contest to Lyman by the score of 10 to 5. "Slick" Ball, rated as the greatest speed ball hurler below the minor leagues, had the locals at his mercy throughout the game, striking out thirteen of them and allowing only five safeties. The entire local team seemed to have had an off day, no one playing up to their standard. "Cotton" Collier, who started on the mound for the locals, was ineffective, being replaced by "Lefty" Verett in the fourth who pitched fairly good ball the remainder of the game.

Outstanding Features Visiting Nine.
"Old Man" Brodas, a former Texas leaguer, who covered the hot corner, and "Slick" Ball, pitcher, were the outstanding figures on the visiting nine. Brodas getting three hits out of five times up, while Ball secured two safe bingles out of the same number times up. The locals thrived miserably in the seventh framed when they scored two runs but were stopped when "Moge" Haas, hard-hitting firstsacker, disappointed the largest crowd that ever witnessed a game at the local park by hitting an easy one to the pitcher with the bases loaded. They also rallied in the eighth, filling the bases, but were unable to score.

Norton Haas Successful Director.
The Lumberjacks, under the direction of Norton Haas during the past season, have played the best teams in this section and are considered close bidders for the championship of South Mississippi. And, present plans indicate that a much stronger team will represent Kiln next season, these plans will be discussed at the baseball banquet to be held soon.

Baseball Fans Vote Oswald Ladner Most Valuable Man on Diamond—Elus Burke Captures Major Vote For Most Popular Man—Trophies.

(Special to Sea Coast Echo)
Kiln, Miss., Oct. 1.—When Cuevas Radio Supply Company played Lumberjacks, a contest was staged by the local management to decide the most valuable man and the most popular man on the team. The results were announced Sunday at the game between Lyman and Kiln. "Moge" Haas, firstsacker, and Oswald Ladner, outfielder, were the principals in the race for the most valuable man, Oswald Ladner being declared the winner by a close margin. Elus Burke, catcher, with "Moge" Haas again formed the principals in the contest for the most popular man, Burke winning.

The winners will be awarded a gold baseball and watch fob with engraving in accordance with the baseball fans of Kiln. The presentation will be made at the baseball banquet to be held soon.

THEN HE FAINTED.

The Fort Worth Sunday Star-Telegram and Record-Telegram has been conducting a slogan contest in which various advertisers ran their slogans, and readers were asked to compete for prizes, supplying the names of the firms advertising, identifying in the various ads.

Among the advertisers was the distributor for Packard motor cars in that city. One morning his home rang, and here is the conversation that ensued: Lady's voice—"What is the slogan of your car?"

Distributor—"Ask the man who owns one."

Lady—"But I don't know any man who owns one."—Editor and Publisher.

ROAD PROGRAM IS MADE TARGET BY TRADE BODY

Investigating Committee Said to Have Been Named.—Committee Has Been Given Full Power.—Board of Supervisors Criticized.

Harrison County's highway program, involving the past, present and future expenditure of millions of dollars, was made the target of a vigorous assault by directors of the Wisconsin Chamber of Commerce Monday night, after the road-building activities of the country, controlled by the Board of Supervisors under the technical direction of Capt. W. S. Hawkins, had been the object of sporadic outbursts of criticism for more than a year.

A committee of executive character, appointed by A. L. Jago, president of the Chamber, Tuesday, was said today to have started its work of investigation, but its personnel was not disclosed.

The scope of the committee will be unrestricted, as far as the Chamber of Commerce is concerned, it was said, and its powers include the transcribing of county records bearing upon highways constructed or reconstructed under the recent $1,500,000 bond issue of the county, and for future maintenance, were barred, and that in several cases, particularly on the north and south road from Gulfport, the county was not conforming even to its own specifications.

Move Led By B. C. Cox.

B. C. Cox, Gulfport realtor and managing director of the County-Wide Committee, which has espoused all county bond issues, beginning with the $2,000,000 initial seal issue, led the move to secure the appointment of a fact-finding committee. Other speakers were R. L. Simpson, Barney E. Eaton, Ralph E. Brash and Robert L. Aubert.—The Gulf Coast Guide.

AUTO CERTIFICATES TO BE DISCUSSED

Sheriffs and Tax Collectors to Plan Distribution of New Thief-Proof Plan For Automobile Owners—Law Carries Heavy Penalty.

Group conferences of sheriffs and tax collectors will be called this fall by George D. Riley, state auditor, to discuss the distribution of containers and certificates of ownership for automobiles, which must be on all automobiles in Mississippi by January 1, under the new law.

A schedule of dates for the conferences is now being worked out by the auditor and will be announced at an early date. The conferences will probably be held during the latter part of October and the first of November as the containers must be distributed during that time.

The new law was clearly designed to prevent the theft of motor vehicles and indications are that automobile thieves will find it hard to hide a stolen machine. The container will have a number the same as the automobile, with the name Mississippi and the year. Every owner of a motor vehicle, other than a motor cycle, during the month of December shall secure from the tax collector a certificate of ownership showing the following:

Name of owner.
Type of vehicle.
County of residence.
Kind of vehicle.
The make or name of the manufacturer.

Type (whether touring, roadster, coupe or sedan, etc.)
The model and year.
By what power propelled.

The maximum capacity in pounds if a commercial vehicle or the weight and maximum capacity in horse power.

The factory number of the vehicle.

The date of delivery of the vehicle to the owner.

The license number for the calendar year.

This certificate is filled out in triplicate. The original certificate is placed in the container in such manner that it cannot be removed without mutilation.

As an additional guard against breaking the glass front of the container and replacing it with other glass, Auditor Riley has had the word "MISSISSIPPI" and the year moulded into the glass itself. If the glass is replaced it is thus easily detected.

All containers are to be affixed to the dash board of the automobile. It is unlawful to operate any motor vehicle without a certificate and container on the public roads after January 1.

The law makes the offense of false statement or altering or forging a certificate of ownership a felony. The violator will be subject to a fine of from $50 to $1,000 or from one to ten years in the penitentiary or both. Under the terms of the law it will be practically impossible to steal an automobile and make away with it. Mr. Riley pointed out. If the thief alters or removes the container or certificate, it will be easily detected and the offender subject to a penitentiary term. If the certificate and container are not molested the automobile can be easily traced and the ownership established.

The container will be nicely plated and will add to the appearance of the dash rather than detract from the appearance.

"I believe that the name of the state and the date moulded into the glass at the factory will prove a great disadvantage to automobile thieves," Mr. Riley said. "Once removed without application to the proper authorities and ownership would have to be proved."

Mr. Riley stated that the conferences would be arranged after suggestions from different sheriffs and tax collectors as to make them convenient.

Calcium Nitrate BASF, when applied as a top-dressing, starts the plants into strong, quick growth by its nitrate nitrogen that dissolves in the ground and begins feeding the crop right away, giving a bigger yield. It makes the vegetables firmer, so that they carry better.

It also supplies another plant food—lime. This lime has been chemically treated, so as to make it quickly available. It corrects soil acidity and gives the vegetables a sweeter taste.

This fertilizer is also improved in other ways. It is granular, easy to broadcast by hand, and is best used in dry weather, as it mixes with the soil moisture and dissolves at once.

Ask for Calcium NITRATE BASF. If your fertilizer dealer can't supply you, write to H. O. Stark, 1320 Hibernia Bldg., New Orleans, La.

C., where he has entered upon the study of law at Georgetown university, choosing the legal profession for his life work. He is a successful student and has best wishes for more than his anticipated success.

—Dr. David C. Williams, and charming wife, whose handsome and hospitable summer home is located on the beach front north of Cedar Point, have returned to their home in New Orleans for the winter months. Dr. Williams is an ardent booster for Bay St. Louis and backs his judgment by judicious realty investments.

—Beginning next Saturday, Oct. 9, and every Saturday thereafter, the A. & G. theater will give matinee performances at 2 o'clock. This innovation proved so popular and a source of convenience to the children and older ones that the management resumes the service in response to a popular demand.

—Messrs. J. H. Bonck, of New Orleans, and friend, J. McWilliams, of Atlanta, registered at the Weston Wednesday for a few days and have been quite successful in piscatorial pursuit. Mr. Bonck, a former resident, expresses anticipation of living in Bay St. Louis again at no distant date, business permitting.

—T. Murray Bangard, well-known local business man and one of our best citizens, recently retired from mercantile pursuit, is assisting in the local postoffice department, pending certain changes and reorganization of the force. Mr. Bangard is painstaking, courteous and obliging and it gives satisfaction to see his services connected with the local department.

—Mrs. Theodore G. Bilbo, of Jackson, spent part of the week in Bay St. Louis, registered at the Hotel Weston, and while here met many of our people. The ex-governor's wife is a most charming and interesting lady and has many friends and acquaintances over the entire state. Bay St. Louis was glad to have a so distinguished visitor.

—V. E. Lizana, who has been traveling the south and west, returned this week from a four-month business trip, which, he states, proved successful. He will remain home a week and then leave for the east, where he intends visiting various manufacturers which he represents. He expects to be home again about Oct. 20 and remain until after the Christmas holidays.

—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ritayik, whose summer villa is on the Waveland beach front, are not only boosters for this section, but prove their fondness for the Coast by their lengthy stay each year, returning to New Orleans long after the early autumn has gone. They are among the number who are remaining and enjoying the late season on the Gulf Coast.

—The many local friends of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Grace will learn with more than ordinary interest of the arrival of a son a few days since at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Beemel, at New Orleans, the former father's daughter. The little one is named John, after the grandfather. Mrs. Beemel, formerly Miss May Grace, is well known in both local and New Orleans social circles.

PROMINENT MERCHANT HOME FROM TRIP.

Gus E. Templet, proprietor of the Bay Jewelry store and wide-awake and progressive citizen, returned home Thursday night from quite a trip to Colorado, where he spent three weeks or more sightseeing and enjoying the climate of that section. Mr. Templet made his headquarters at Denver and enjoyed the many side trips to be made from that point. He was registered at the famous Broadmoor hotel.

A Rotarian and attending the meetings of the Denver Rotary club, he will, no doubt, be one of the principal speakers at the Rotary club next Wednesday night. He is an entertaining speaker and his narrative will be most engaging. Mr. Templet traveled every year and his "back at ways" leads to the most interesting sections of this country. He is a firm believer in "See America First."

REMODELING DWELLING.

A. B. Day, contractor and builder, has a force of men busily engaged remodeling the front of his family dwelling in Toulme street, at the intersection of Esterbrook, and the work has progressed to the extent to make it visible that the place is undergoing quite a transformation, and, when completed, will compare with the more attractive and handsomer homes of the city. We do not only need more dwellings, but wish better ones as well, and it is noteworthy to see the number of home places that of late have undergone remodeling with a view of architectural attractiveness. The program appears to be "More and Better Homes For Bay St. Louis." Mr. Day is setting the example.

L. & N. BUILDING TREBLE.

Pensacola, Oct. 1.—General Freight Agent C. W. Steed reported that a small army of men are now employed in repairing track damage and rebuilding the trestle over the Escambia river, but he did not indicate just how long it would be until train service eastward would be possible. The rapid work which is now going on at the coal docks guarantees the use of that wharf by the first of the week. Mr. Steed indicated further in his statement that the L. & N. had placed its total hurricane losses at $750,000, which includes the Escambia trestle.

—Mr. and Mrs. S. Swoon and family and Mr. and Mrs. John D. Grace. There was no insurance. But for the timely assistance of neighbors greater loss would have resulted. Damage is estimated from $1,500 to $2,000.

—Mr. E. Van Whitfield, well-known county tax assessor, spent the early part of the week in Mobile, in the interest of former business and visiting relatives, says while Mobile was not seriously damaged there is considerable evidence of the storm there a week previously. However, he says Mobile is forging to the front amazingly. The number of business buildings and hundreds of dwellings in course of construction on every side shows unmistakably the Gulf City is keeping pace with the larger cities.

—The Echo has every reason to believe in due time the matter of paving more streets in the city is a subject that will be again considered and the work carried out. The paved section has proven of such benefit and afforded satisfaction as to justify an added expenditure—when practicable and the authorities can see the way clear to do so. The paved streets of the city meant so much to the thousands of visitors here the past season and left a lasting impression. We feel satisfied, as soon as more of this work can be accomplished it will be done.

—In open meetings the Bay St. Louis Chamber of Commerce members have dwelt time and again on the subject of better lawns, more and better gardens and a general disposition to beautify the city. The example, of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad company, engaged at present putting out many palms and other ornamental plants around the local depot premises, should in time prove significant to a material extent, and the hope is expressed that many private and other places over town in the near future will show attention in this direction. There is no reason, in this semi-tropical climate, why Bay St. Louis should not be called and known as "The Garden City."

—Visitors to Bay St. Louis find this city one of the best lighted by night. No matter where one goes within the city after dark the matter of illumination has received attention and results in the fact the city is well lighted. The hope is expressed that it will not be in the far-distant time when bigger and better lights will add to the attractiveness of the business section, or, the city, along the beach front and out into the street will have its own white way. It is noted the Biloxi front for quite a distance has a row of ornamental posts (concrete) with great white lights. The Bay St. Louis white way would be connected with the string of bridge lights.

—Among the improvements at Clermont Harbor is the completion of quite an attractive raised dwelling for Mr. John Bernos, of New Orleans, and occupied by his family. Mr. Jules Favre, of Waveland, is the builder, and it is not only one of the attractive and more substantially dwellings at the Harbor, but noted for the many interior arrangements and equipment. This section needs more and better houses. In fact, this should be encouraged by discouraging the building of the house built of four walls and a roof top with no thought of arrangement and architectural consideration. All considered, it cost more to build a poorly and cheaply constructed house than to build the opposite.

—The mail order house and the out-of-town store pays no taxes locally and in no way helps to carry the local burdens. They do not toll here, and the question is asked why should they reap? Every local business house contributes liberally to every institutional endeavor, participates in all civic work and no cause is considered of meets with success without local assistance. A dollar spent away from home never returns; spent with the local business man it circulates in a day, circulates in such manifold as to make it worth that much to the community. It has been pointed out that one dollar spent in the local home results in a ten-dollar value to the community. The local business man is the backbone of the community.

IN SOCIAL CIRCLES.

Mrs. John D. Grace, assisted by her accomplished daughters, Misses Virginia and Evelyn, was hostess Tuesday afternoon at a delightful bridge at the family summer villa on the fashionable Waveland beach front.

The affair was beautifully planned and carried out in that manner of charm and pleasure for which the hostess is known, and the Grace home is frequently the scene of much entertainment all during the summer season.

Among those present were Mrs. J. A. Wogan, Mrs. A. W. Starliper, Mrs. Perry Brown, Mrs. Julian Swoon, Miss Marjory Swoon, Mrs. John A. Green, Miss Margaret Green, Mrs. E. J. Lacoste, Mrs. John Bryan, Mrs. George R. Kergosien, Mrs. H. L. Kergosien, Miss Mary Perkins, Mrs. C. G. Moreau, Mrs. Staehling.

Another Beautiful Bridge Entertainment.

Mrs. John Bryan, gracious hostess, whose inviting and charming home at Cedar Point is the scene of entertainment from time to time, entertained Wednesday afternoon at auction bridge from 2 to 5 o'clock. When the time had elapsed the scores awarded the pretty prizes by the hostess to Mrs. E. J. Lacoste, first; Miss Virginia Grace, second; Mrs. Ed. Carriere, recently returned from extensive travel was a special guest. Others included Mrs. George R. Rea, Mrs. K. W. Pepperdine, Mrs. E. J. Lacoste, Mrs. John D. Grace, Mrs. George E. Pitcher, Jr., Mrs. A. W. Starliper, Mrs. J. J. Ritayik, Mrs. H. L. Kergosien, Mrs. Chas. G. Moreau, Misses E. Lacoste and Virginia Grace.

Mrs. R. H. Prados entertained informally at a small party of bridge in compliment to Mrs. A. W. Starliper, who, with her family, left yesterday afternoon for New Orleans to spend the winter.

"A THING OF JOY AND BEAUTY FOREVER."

Mrs. S. A. Power and Mrs. K. W. Pepperdine announce they will, within two weeks from tomorrow, open a most charming dining room project along the most fetching plans, embracing all elements that lure and compel; a something entirely different from anything else, embracing that it be in California or other sorts of the kind. A place where every Sunday night a most difficult problem may be solved, "Where shall we go for supper?" The Sunday night "Candle light supper" will fascinate and satisfy, and afford a rendezvous to meet one's acquaintances or friends and to believe the mind of the worry that "bobs up serenely" every seventh night of the week.

The location will be at the home of Mrs. Power, on the beach front and centrally located. While the place will not be conducted along the lines of a tea room, in a measure it will serve as such for special occasions when a party or bridge luncheon, or a "special bite" for entertainment of a few friends will be wanted. In fact, while it will fill the popular want it will be something entirely different, a place one will love to go, to bring their friends and to return many times thereafter.

This is all for the present. There will be more on the subject. Suffice to say, the project will bring more fame to Bay St. Louis, the beautiful and attractive.

TO THE POINT.

The young reporter was told to make his articles short and to the point, so when he wrote up the death of a prominent citizen who died said: "The old guy was going along the street when suddenly he put his hands up and said 'I'm going to die.' Then he leaned against the fence and made good." (Altogether with him.)

COUNTY DEM. AGENT STAGES SUCCESSFUL OUTING WEDNESDAY

Management Is Thankful and Appreciative of Co-Operation Which Assisted Making Picnic Outing the Success That It Was.

Miss Maymie O'Dom, Hancock county demonstration agent, expressed thanks and appreciation to one and all who assisted her in the work of the home demonstration picnic, held at Nicholson avenue, Waveland, on Wednesday, the 29th, and who in anyway contributed to the success of the affair. Without co-operation and the liberal assistance that was rendered Miss O'Dom says her efforts alone would not have been productive.

In thanking one and all, "special thanks" are extended to Messrs. Ruhl, McNeice, Bourgeois and Herlihy, of Waveland; the school boys of Waveland; Co. Sup't. T. E. Keller, Messrs. Chas. A. Breath, Alphonse G. Favre, S. F. Gentry, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce; Dr. C. M. Shipp, Archie Surcouf, who gave liberally of his time and work and who hung all flags; Supervisor Jos. L. Favre; Beat 5, who gave the county truck; Mr. Manney Kimmel and his assistant who drove the truck; Mrs. John Stewart, splendid worker; Miss Mary Perkins and Mrs. R. L. Breath, who never fail to support any progressive effort put forth by any organization or institution for a "Better Hancock County."

Wednesday's demonstration picnic well exemplified the success to be gained from the spirit of co-operation, and makes projects for constructive work and community success that otherwise would be impossible.

FUNERAL OF MISS ELEONORE FAYARD.

The funeral of this estimable lady and one of the oldest ladies in the city, a typical resident of Bay St. Louis of the good old days, took place Sunday afternoon from the late residence in Toulme and E. R. avenue, and was largely attended.

Rev. Father Leo Fahey officiated both at the house and church and as well at St. Mary's cemetery, where the remains were tenderly laid to rest. The deceased was a sister of Evariste Fayard, of Bay St. Louis, and of Mrs. Mary Catelot, of New Orleans; Mrs. Etienne Ladner, of Bay St. Louis. She lived with her nieces, Miss Louise Fayard and Rebecca Fayard. These named wish to particularly thank one and all who were with them in their time of sorrow, for expressions of sympathy and personal attention; thankful to the many who sent beautiful floral offerings, to Father Fahey and all who were so tender and true.

Miss Fayard, the deceased, was a native, aged 73 years, and her long life was spent in doing for others; kindness, acts of charity and assisting suffering humanity by her tender ministrations were objects of her long and beautiful life.

DEMOLISHING OLD MASONIC BUILDING

Having sold the former Masonic hall, which stood on the site of the new temple in Main street, for seventy-five years or more, Louis Benigno, purchaser of the structure, is busy with a force of men taking the building apart. The lumber is of the best material and unnecessary to say, thoroughly seasoned, which will be used for the construction of dwellings Mr. Benigno plans.

While engaged in the work of demolition Benigno grasped two "live" wires and had quite an experience before he could let them go. The voltage reduced, the current was not of sufficient power to prove fatal.

Are You Saving money on your Toll Calls?

It is a simple thing to secure the lowest rate for long distance calls and make a saving in your telephone bill.

Just remember that the reduced rate, both day and night, applies only to calls on which you do not request to speak to a particular person.

Calls at the reduced rate are handled by number, and it helps a lot if you know the number of the telephone you are calling.

But it is not necessary to know the number. Give the operator the name and address under which the called telephone is listed, and she will complete the call at the lowest rate.

If you do not understand exactly how to make long distance calls, let the operator help you.
